FEDERAL AND STATE CODE INCLUDING ALL PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Treason is specifically defined in the United States Constitution, the only crime so defined. Article III Section 3 delineates treason as follows:

Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court. The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted.

II.I.JI.THE UNITED STATES JUSTICE CODE II.I.JI.

I. Treason against the United States specifically is anyone elected by the people to hold any government office, who must have taken an oath to protect the Constitution, The United States, The People and who have (a.) overtly broken their oaths of office, (b.) overtly broken the swearing in upon the traditional Forefather's use of the HOLY BIBLE for official office, (c.) overtly broken the highest laws that govern the land, it's agencies, and or it's people. This shall be considered the enemy and to be an act of levying war against the founders of America and the concurrent people of the United States.

II. The people of the United States should not be (a.) coerced into the administration of justice having to act on their own behalf; (b.) the people should not be forced into the administration of justice having to act on their own governments behalf; (c.) The people should not have to be called forward to administrate justice on their elected (d.) The people should not have to enforce laws upon their own representation from the findings of any treason or obstruction of justice from this law for their elected, (e.) or to be called into the administration of justice by the findings of any of these laws that govern their elected to be broken, (f.) and from the findings of any gross negligence of the highest laws of the land for them to follow (e.) including but not limited to overt actions against the laws that govern the government being the Constitution. The people of the United States shall have peace of mind to be able to trust their government.

III. Should any of these actions ever be proceeded against (a.) overtly by the peoples elected who are the government of the United States, (b.) proceeded so overtly against the law, now then this law is to be considered activated and in full overence, an irrevocable force given to the people of the United States to administer their own personal justice on their elected to follow if they have been found to have failed them and have betrayed their trusts in which they were elected to serve. (c.) Any action as defined in the Constitution can and will be appropriately used against their elected that have breached the people's confidence and so have clearly unmistakably broken the trusts of the people defined by the people for the people found in this United States Justice Code and the Constitution of the United States. (d.) Now from this The Constitution can and will be used against their elected in the court of law. (e.) The elected found to be lawbreakers by the people and of this law shall be considered to be a clear enemy of the United States of America and our Nations people. (f.) Anyone elected who have broken the Holy oaths of office to protect the Constitution and our people including their God given rights shall be considered to have crossed the red white blue and black lines drawn for them here in the quick sands of time. So the same service process shall be instituted for these individuals who are a clear threat to our people's personal freedoms. A trial shall be given to them in an expedited manner placed in precedence by this law and the peoples order so help them God to never be here. Justice administered to any officials of treason held by the people of the United States against our elected will be brought before the highest Judiciary for the elected overt law breaker or law breakers of the Constitution and so shall they be held fully accountable to the people's power which is our laws and the highest laws of this land given for all our elected officials to follow strictly without compromise, furthermore the pursuit of power is aggravated when the pursuit of service is not placed first to the people of the United States of America who give their elected the power to act on their behalf.

IV. The people of the United States, who do hereby employ their government can and will expect their elected to follow the same laws we do hereby follow, being our very own laws, being the highest laws of this land for everyone to follow inside our great nation The United States of America. Our law is this Constitution; for the people, by the people, and any of our elected shall follow the laws of this land just like their employers the people who are their electors do. For anyone elected by them found to have overtly broken such laws as these shall be immediately afforded remedy being the removal of a. Office, b. Judicial Immunity, c. Sovereign Immunity, d.

Jurisdictional Immunity, e. all immunities. f. including all protections except those which are found in the Constitution and the rights to an expedited trial. No judgment is required by any government officials if it is the government officials found to have broken these laws. All immunities from these particular people shall be revoked by way of acting against the people of the United States and our Constitutional laws that govern everyone including our elected officials inside our great nation which is The United States of America.

V. The constitution is the foundation of the United States and (a.) our people which is (b.) our nation (c.) which we own and in this law shall be the findings instituted against any corruptions found inside (d.) our system of (e.) our justice by (f.) our administration of (g.) our duty by way of (h.) our people, who can and have already pierced any mere men's governmental veils acting against (i) our laws and (j) our lands to stay in line by this living accountability.

VI. We the people can and do hereby strike from record any falsehood of assumed protections the elected assume they are under, removing all influence they may possess when acting outside their colorful lines of governmental roles and their narrow scopes of office which do have rules and guidelines instituted by us the people for our elected to follow. We the people do hereby and have hereby already pierced any instituted immunities of power given to our elected by our law over The United States and which is over all governmental people and powers when acting against the living government being:

1. The United States Constitution 1787
2. The Bill of Rights 1789
3. The Declaration of Independence 1776

VII. The what now's who have become mere men in would be governmental positions have had their veils pierced by the people of the USA and their hands of unity which is our true power, those of whom have already been in agreement are our people. Who are they, but the power of the United States government, who do hereby rule over them that are their elected by us, for us, who furthermore own this law and who own this justice whereby two or more witnesses fully activates this lawful conduit and institutes all remedies named herein.

VIII. Anyone adhering against this now clearly defined law being the enemy of the United States herein and the people in particular to their elected who (T.) Are siding against the people's God given rights giving the enemy aid and comfort, (K.) Have sided against the people's God given rights giving the enemy aid and comfort, or (O.) will side against the people's God given rights giving the enemy aid and comfort.

IX. Congress shall declare the punishment of High Treason upon two or more witnesses and by executive order of the people's power punishable of death by the electric chair, but in no way shall be deprived of due process and the rule of law or the Constitution of the United States requirements to a fair trial. 6 The penalty of death by electric chair shall never be taken away from this high law, nor shall there ever be any plea bargains offered by any government official to the elected who overtly break these 12 statutes set in stone. Nor shall there ever be any bail set by any government official so the elected cannot escape this justice to another country. The trial by 12 peers pronounced to be guilty or not guilty by way of verdict shall and will be held in the United States Supreme Court by 7 judges concurrently with the 12 people who are the required peers to prevent this law from ever being corrupted by anyone anywhere in the world.
